Southern Railway Watchmen Take Severe Measures With Tramps.

G. HATLEY NORTON CRITICALLY ILL

Washington Woman Drops Her Pocket Book at the Ferry.

GENERAL GOSSIP

James J. Johnson, a young "hobo," who said he was from Mississippi, complained at police headquarters last night that he had been unmercifully beaten by two watchmen in the Southern railway freight yard, without provocation. He was given a place to sleep and this morning John Loven and John Turner, the watchmen, were summoned before the mayor. Johnson said he was walking some distance from the track and was on his way to the police station to get a night's lodging, when Loven fired a pistol at him several times, the bullets passing in rather unpleasant proximity to his head, and ordered him to halt, which he did. After coming up with him, he said, Turner would hit him with a club and let him get a short distance away, when Loven would level the pistol at him and make him come back to them. Loven claimed that he fired the pistol to frighten away three negro tramps and Turner said they were forced to tap Johnson several times to get him off the com-pany's premises. Both men said they had to be very severe on the tramps, and it was utterly impossible to place all of them under arrest. The "hobo" made a speech to the court worthy of William Jennings Bryan, proving himself an orator of no mean caliber. The mayor presented the watchmen with copies of the regulations governing the police and dismissed the Hatley Norton, who is ill near Old Sweet Springs, says his patient is in a critical condition, and the worst is expected. Besides Mr. Nor-ton's family Messrs. S. G. Brent and Louis C. Barley are also with him.

Fined $20 for Assault. Thomas Gibson, the negro man who cut Lizzie Richardson in the abdomen a few days age, mention of which was made in The Star at the time, was apprehended by the police last night and was given a hearing before the mayor this morning. The weman tried to shield Gibson in her testi-mony, and said he had expressed sorrow for the act and had given her $4 with which to pay for medical attention. Gibson claimed that he was drinking at the time and had the knife in his hand, having been cutting an apple, when he became engaged in a friendly scuffle with the woman, during which she was cut. His honor decided that there was a more serious aspect to the case than the evidence showed, and imposed a fine of $20 on the prisoner.

Constable Will Webster appeared at the mayor's court this merning, having in charge a negro man, and closely followed by an old lady, who gave her name as Mrs. C. B. Lowe of Washington. Mr. Webster said Mrs. Lowe had called on him at the ferry house a few minutes before to help her catch a negro who had gone up an al-ley with her pocket book, which she had dropped. They went up the alley and found a negro named Ed. Mocabee, who show that he had stolen it, and he was dismissed.

Dennis Daly, a white man, who claims Washington as his home, has been working on the new sewer in this city and has been boarding with Mrs. John Murphy, on north Payne street. Daly had not paid his board for several weeks, and Mrs. Murphy locked him out of the house last night. Daly climbed over a shed in the rear of the house and tried to effect an entrance through the back door, when Mrs. Mur-phy's son had him arrested for trespassing on his property. In the mayor's court this morning he claimed that he was merely making an effort to get his clothes out of the house, and upon his promise to make no further trouble he was dismissed. Mr. Murphy agreeing to deliver his effects to him.

Charged With Stealing. Andrew Whiting, colored, has been held at police headquarters since Tuesday awaiting the claimant of a box of tobacco which Officer Davis found him trying to dispose of for 75 cents. Whiting told conflicting stories about how he came into possession of the tobacco, but last night the mystery was cleared up when W. H. Whiting, a colored grocer, whose store is on Gibbon street, identified the box and claimed that it was stolen from his place on Tuesday afternoon. His clerk corroborated his testimony, and Whiting, the thief, was fined $12.

Cases in the Mayor's Court. The following cases were disposed of by Mayor Thompson this morning: Dennis Daly, white, charged with trespassing on the property of John Murphy, was dismissed with a Peprimand.

Wm. Jackson, colored, assault on Mary Jackson, fined $5.

Patrick Duffy, white, assault on Maggie O'Brien, fined $5. Thomas Gibson, colored, assault on Liz-zie Richardson with a knife, fined $20. Maggie O'Brien and Maud Tippett, both white, charged with being drunk and disorderly on the street, were sent to the work house for ninety days.

Andrew Whiting, colored, charged with stealing a box of tobacco from W. H. Whiting, find the colored with the colored to the colored

John Louen and John Turner, white, charged with assault on J. J. Johnson, were George Stewart, a white man, halling from Washington, was fined $5 for indecent conduct. Richard Burnett, white, charged with assault on Arthur Mankin, was dismissed.

Edward Macabee, colored, charged with taking a pocket book from Mrs. C. B.
Lowe of Washington, was dismissed after giving up the pocket book and its contents, there being no evidence to show that his statement that he had found it was untrue.

Notes of Interest. The Bryan and Sewall Club will hold a meeting at the New Opera House tonight, to which every one is invited. Mr. Robert F. Knex, jr., of the First National Bank is spending his vacation at Atlantic City. A large crowd went from this city to River View last night on the steamer Samuel J. Pentz to see the woman bicyclist coast down the "chute." Officer Beach this morning arrested John Baggott, a white man, who has been wanted since the 24th of March on a charge of disorderly conduct. He will be given Mr. Albert C. WHOLESALE PRODUCE MARKET. Material Advance in Butter, Eggs and Cheese-Firmer Feeling. The tendency of prices in the local wholesale produce market today is upward, and especially is this true of butter, eggs and cheese, which products show a material advance over the prices quoted a week ago. Butter has jumped a cent and a half a pound since then, eggs two cents a dozen and cheese about a cent a pound. These products are not unlikely to still further advance, particularly butter. The receipts of poultry have been somewhat light during the week, and prices have, therefore, get it, i.e., in exchange for what?

4. If I present silver coin at treasury, what kind of money can I get in exchange?

H. C. ATKINSON. A Star reporter submitted the questions propounded in the above communication to a prominent officer of the Treasury Department, who answered them as follows:

1. No.

2. If a coin obligation, the check will be paid in gold if gold is demanded. Otherwise it is optional with the treasurer to pay any kind of lawful money.

3. In exchange for gold certificates in any amount, at the treasury or any subtreasury. In sums not less than $50 for United States notes at the subtreasuries in New York and San Francisco, and for treasury notes at the treasury or any subtreasury.

4. If standard silver dollars, silver certificates only can be obtained. If subsidiary coin, lawful money can be obtained-kind optional with the treasurer.

GOSSIPY NOTES

Secretary and Mrs. Carlisle and Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Carlisle and family returned yesterday from their outing and every nember of the party feels the better for it. secretary and Mrs. Carlisle, both of whom were completely fagged out when they went away, have returned in the best of health. Some part of the time they found as hot probably as the sufferers during the torrid wave did on shore, but the few days they spent in the neighborhood of Buzzard's Bay were ideal ones for perfect enjoyment. They were entertained both at Gray Gables and at the home of Assistant Secretary Hamlin, while at Marion. Mrs. Carlisle is going away again soon to make a visit to Mrs. Robert Pendleton Bowler at Bar Harbor, and probably the Secretary will accompany her. The visit has been one long promised.

Newport has enjoyed a fortnight of great galety, the present week having been spe cially interesting, and the coming one is full of events that will serve to keep gossipers as busy everywhere else as at the scene of action. Two young girls have been presented to society—Miss Van Alen, a granddaughter of the Astors, as well as the daughter of a men on whom attention the daughter of a msn on whom attention was strongly directed a few years ago, and Miss Brooks, whose mother, Mrs. H. Mortimer Brooks, owns one of the finest homes at Newport, and is one of its most conspicuous entertainers. Thousands of dollars were spent on the blossoming forth of these two young maidens and many chanthese two young maidens, and many channels of trade received a new current of life by reason of it. For the first a ball room was especially built. It was only a can-vas structure, to be sure, but no one would have suspected it from its thoroughly ar-have suspected it from its thoroughly artistic appearance.

The canvas which lined its walls was painted by Parisian artists, and each panel was a triumph in its way. For the second coming-out ball the many changes and additions recently made to Mrs. Brocks' villa received their house warming comvilla received their house-warming nendation. For both germans the favors were extremely pretty, and at the latter were all silver novelties. Both brides apseared in snowy white, satin and chiffon and pearl ornaments, which costume is now as settled as are the same materials differ-as settled as are the same materials differently developed for a bridal array.

For the coming week, the leading event will be the marriage of Miss Gertrude Vanderbilt and Mr. Harsy Payne Whitney, which will occur Tuesday at noon in the grand salon of "The Breakers," the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt. The enfeebled condition of the bridge oilt. The enfeebled condition of the bride's father throws something of a damper over the festivities, but it is hoped that he will the restrictes, but it is hoped that he will be able to take part in the ceremony. The flower girls will be Gladys Vanderbilt and Dorothy Whitney. It does not seem so very long ago since all fashionable Washington attended the christening party of this last named young miss, who is now about as old as her sister, Mrs. Almeric Paret, was when she seent her Christenia. Paget, was when she spent her Christmas vacations here.

There will be six bridesmaids, also, three of them cousins of the bride, and Payne Whitney will be best man for his brotner. One day of the past week express packages valued at $25,000 and their contents jewels, were received by the bride, and the chances are that day's experiences have been re-peated again and again. It is understood that the young couple will spend the early days of their honeymoon in the Berkshire bills, camping out and otherwise rusticating far from intrusion and bother ing far from intrusion and bother, on the iarge estate recently purchased there by ex-Secretary Whitney. To more quickly bring back health and strength to Mr. Vanderbilt a trip to Europe and a cruise on the Mediterranean aboard Mr. Wm. K. on the Mediterranean aboard Mr. Wm. K. Vanderbilt's yacht is also contemplated. Mrs. Vanderbilt and her young daughter will accompany the invalid. In response to the thousands of inquiries made by friends during the first days of the paralytic stroke Mrs. Vanderbilt has sent out engraved cards expressing her appreciation. This is a new departure in feebrookle. This is a new departure in fashionable stationery methods and as such demands passing notice.
